(54) DIGITAL INFORMATION STORAGE MEDIUM AND REPRODUCTION PROTECTING METHOD THEREOF

(57) Abstract:

PURPOSE: A reproduction protecting method is provided to protect a reproduction of a digital information storage medium. CONSTITUTION: The reproduction protecting method comprises the steps of: accessing a predetermined period, wherein a discontinuity time information is recorded to the predetermined period of a digital information storage medium; detecting whether or not the time information recorded in the predetermined period of the digital information storage medium is continuous; judging the digital information storage medium as a reproduction product when the time information recorded in the predetermined period of the digital information storage medium is continuous; and prohibiting a reproduction of the storage medium when the storage medium is judged as the reproduction product.
